

BPO Outreach & Evidence Documentation Guide

How to obtain, document, and correctly claim BPO HR engagement for the GuardianShield project

■ READ THIS BEFORE USING THIS DOCUMENT The CV claim 'two recommendations were piloted by a BPO HR department' requires evidence. This document provides: (A) the exact outreach messages to send TODAY, (B) what you can legitimately claim at each stage of engagement, and (C) how to save and organise your evidence. DO NOT claim 'piloted' unless the intervention has actually started.

WHERE ARE YOU NOW? — Select your current status:

■ STATUS A:	Presentation has NOT happened yet. → Go to Step 1. Send the outreach message TODAY. Update CV to Path B wording (page 2).
■ STATUS B:	Meeting happened but is undocumented. → Go to Step 3. Send the follow-up confirmation message and screenshot the thread.
■ STATUS C:	Meeting happened, HR said they'd consider piloting. → You may claim Path B wording. Go to Step 4 to document.
■ STATUS D:	Buddy System or rotation has actually started. → You may claim full pilot language. Go to Step 5 to document with evidence.

CV WORDING — What You Can Say at Each Stage

Path A — Before ANY BPO contact (Status A):

✓ CORRECT: 'Conducted primary survey research (N=60) on burnout and well-being in BPO content review roles; developed 3-tier resilience framework with 12 evidence-based recommendations'

✗ INCORRECT: Any mention of 'piloted', 'implemented', or 'presented to HR' — until it has happened

Path B — After meeting with BPO HR contact (Status B or C):

✓ CORRECT: 'Presented framework to BPO HR professional for review; Tier 2 Buddy System and category rotation recommendations identified as operationally viable for pilot consideration'

This is defensible without further documentation once the meeting has happened.

Path C — After pilot has actually started (Status D):

✓ CORRECT: 'GuardianShield framework adopted for pilot by [BPO name / anonymous BPO team]: Buddy Check-In System and weekly calibration add-on deployed across [X]-person T&S; team; pre/post burnout screening in progress'

Only claim this if the pilot has actually started. One supervisor running the Buddy System is a pilot.

STEP-BY-STEP: How to Get the Meeting

STEP 1 — Send the Initial Outreach Message (LinkedIn or WhatsApp)

Send to: Your Teleperformance/Concentrix/WNS contact, OR any BPO HR professional in your LinkedIn network. Personalise the [Name] field.

From: You → To: BPO HR Contact

Subject: Independent research on content moderator well-being — would you review my findings?

Hi [Name], Hope you're doing well. I recently completed an independent research project on mental health and well-being in content moderation and BPO roles — based on a survey with 60 professionals in Hyderabad. The findings are quite striking (47% intend to leave within 6 months; 61% have no employer counsellor access). I've developed a 3-tier framework with 12 recommendations, two of which require zero budget and could be deployed within 30 days. Would you be willing to connect for 20 minutes to review the key findings? I can send the presentation deck in advance. Completely informal — just looking for your professional perspective. Thank you, [Your name]

If no response after 5 days: send ONE follow-up. If still no response after 3 more days: move to a different contact.

STEP 2 — Send the Deck in Advance

Attach GuardianShield_Presentation.pptx to your confirmation message. Add this note:

From: You → To: BPO HR Contact

Subject: Re: GuardianShield framework — deck attached

Hi [Name], Thank you for agreeing to connect. I've attached the presentation deck (10 slides, 15 min). The slides I'd most like your input on are Slides 7 and 8 — the Buddy Check-In System and the category rotation recommendations. These are the two Tier 2 interventions that require no budget. Looking forward to speaking with you on [date/time]. [Your name]

STEP 3 — After the Meeting: Send the Follow-Up Confirmation

This is the most important step. This message creates your evidence record.

From: You → To: BPO HR Contact

Subject: Thank you — GuardianShield framework discussion

Hi [Name], Thank you for your time today. I really appreciated your perspective on the Buddy System and category rotation recommendations. As we discussed, the key findings were: • 82% of respondents rated peer debriefs as effective, but only 18% have access • The Buddy Check-In System requires zero budget and 30 minutes of training • The 4-week category rotation cap addresses the cumulative exposure issue you mentioned Would you be comfortable if I referenced that a BPO HR professional reviewed these recommendations as part of a research project? No company name would be included — just that an HR team reviewed the framework and identified [Buddy System / rotation / both] as operationally viable. [If they said they'd consider a pilot]: I'll follow up in 2 weeks as discussed. Thank you again. I'll send you the full report PDF as promised. [Your name]

STEP 4 — Save Your Evidence

- Screenshot the WhatsApp thread or save the email chain as PDF
- Save file as: evidence/bpo_acknowledgement_[date].pdf
- What to capture: the original message, their agreement to meet, the post-meeting follow-up, their reply
- If they replied 'yes you can reference me': that text is your evidence
- If they didn't explicitly reply: the thread showing the meeting happened is your evidence

STEP 5 — If a Pilot Starts

- Document the start date and team size (even approximate: 'a 12-person content review team')
- If the supervisor sends you a message confirming they've started the Buddy System: screenshot it
- After 4 weeks: ask for a brief written or verbal update. Document the response.
- Even 'We tried it for two weeks and had to pause' is a legitimate pilot outcome — report it honestly

INTERVIEW PREPARATION — What to Say About BPO Engagement

If asked: 'Did any BPO actually use your framework?'

If STATUS A (no meeting yet): 'I've completed the research and framework and am in the process of presenting it to BPO HR contacts. The deck is ready. I've prioritised making the Tier 2 recommendations deployable without budget, specifically to reduce the barrier for a conversation with HR.' If STATUS B (meeting happened): 'I presented the framework to a BPO HR professional who reviewed the findings. The Buddy System and rotation recommendations were identified as immediately actionable. I'm following up on a potential pilot.' If STATUS C/D (pilot underway): 'A Tier 2 pilot is currently running at a BPO content review team — the Buddy Check-In System and the calibration add-on. I'm doing a pre/post comparison of self-reported distress ratings over 8 weeks.'

If asked: 'Why should I trust your data — you only have 60 people?'

'You're right that N=60 is a small sample. I address this directly in the methodology section of the report. What N=60 is sufficient for: descriptive statistics, the Support Gap Analysis (which is the strongest finding), and identifying access-effectiveness inversions. What it is NOT sufficient for: establishing reliable correlations between variables. The intent-to-leave analysis showed a null result that I report honestly — the burnout difference between leavers and stayers was 0.1 points. That honesty is deliberate. A study with N=200+ would be needed to establish reliable correlations. I say so in the report.'
